UDC 332.3:631.92

MONITORING OF THE CONDITION OF WINTER WHEAT FARMLAND USING SENTINEL SATELLITES AND ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE SYSTEMS

S. Bulakevych, O. Kachanovsky

In the article results of researches of a condition of a winter wheat with use of the data of remote sounding of the earth from space are resulted. The possibility of obtaining reliable information on winter wheat crops using remote sensing materials of Sentinel-2 satellites and yield prediction using neural networks is established.